

MIRACLE DELIVERANCE

The Controversial Deliverance Ministry

Perilous Times-The Great Falling Away

<http://www.miracleinternetchurch.com/internet-church-videos/perilous-times-the-great-falling-away>

“And it shall come to pass, if thou shalt hearken diligently unto the voice of the LORD thy God, to observe and to do all his commandments which I command thee this day, that the LORD thy God will set thee on high above all nations of the earth: 2 And all these blessings shall come on thee, and overtake thee, if thou shalt hearken unto the voice of the LORD thy God,” (Deut. 28:1-2).

The deliverance ministry is more controversial today than it was when Jesus cast out devils.

- Why is it that Christians refuse to use the Word OF GOD? (They instead want to give their own thoughts and opinions)
- How powerful is the word of God? Is it worthless in comparison to their own clever words, and long explanations?
- 2 Peter 2:18-20 “For when they speak great swelling words of vanity, they allure through the lusts of the flesh, through much wantonness, those that were clean escaped from them who live in error. 19 While they promise them liberty, they themselves are the servants of corruption: for of whom a man is overcome, of the same is he brought in bondage.
- 20 For if after they have escaped the pollutions of the world through the knowledge of the Lord and Saviour.” KJV

OCCULT STEPPING STONES TO WITCHCRAFT "The Spirit speaketh expressly that in the latter times some shall depart from the faith, giving heed to seducing spirits and doctrines of devils." (1 Tim. 4:1) The Walking Dead book concerns the Lamb family (a fictitious name) that was living in Central Florida where a white witch that cast deadly spells upon them that almost cost Rita Lamb her life. It also reveals witchcraft power that engaged the teenagers in the community to become involved with the powers of darkness. They became zombies like when this white witch gave them drugs and taught them witchcraft rituals in the local cemetery, thus destroying their lives through demon possession. No one can dabble in witchcraft and come away unshackled. However through Jesus, one can be deliverance, (Matt. 18:18) there are very few Christian ministers that can deliver them. He died for us that we might live. Dr. Holliday says that the rise and social acceptance of witchcraft in America has caused progressive interest and involvement in the occult and capturing millions spiritual slaves. Also she says, "Witchcraft and Satanic worship, coupled with human sacrifices is widespread and happening now!" Christians should never seek help, guidance or healing from a witch or psychic.

- "Is. 55:1 "Praise the LORD, [all] His Angels of great strength, who do His word, obedient to His command. 21 Praise the LORD, all His armies, His servants who do His will." Ps. 103:20-21
- "For he will command his Angels concerning you to guard you in all your ways;" Ps. 91:11
-"Are they not all ministering spirits sent out to serve those who are going to inherit salvation? " Hebrews 1:14
- "And then shall that Wicked be revealed, whom the Lord shall consume with the spirit of his mouth, and shall destroy with the brightness of his coming," 2 Thessalonians 2:8

The deliverance ministry is needed in the American Church. Meanwhile most Christians fight it; most pastors fight; few ministers embrace it. Adults, men, women and children have been captured by the powers of darkness. May God help us my friends.

Mystical Revolution

People today have an insatiable thirst for knowledge of the "other world." Many are convinced that life holds mysteries beyond what our five senses reveal. They are right! Everyone from presidents to common people, the educated to the unlearned, the spiritualist to the entertainer, is affected by this intense yearning to know how to cross the bridge between two worlds. That the "beyond" exists is commonly accepted today.

AMERICA IS EXPERIENCING A MYSTICAL REVOLUTION

Communion with God is a participation in eternal life by grace through by faith. Such communion is not achieved by imagination, visualizations, solitude, or mystical formulas. To purport any other communion with God apart from grace through faith is to attempt to overthrow the Gospel. False teachers have attempted to supplant the Gospel by seducing multitudes with doctrines that can damn their souls for eternity. Psychic prophets, astrologers, spiritualist hypnotists, flying saucers, space saviors, mind mixers, mind manipulators, mind movers, false prophets of the East, witchcraft, devil worshipers, séances, occult games and occult movies are presented as having the answers to all of life's problems. People have been sold the bill of goods that occultism is exciting and wonderful.

The occult is big business, representing a billion dollars each year! Supermarket and drugstore racks are full of books and magazines promising to tell you the hidden secrets of the "other world" (or your own psyche). More than a thousand daily newspapers carry astrological forecasts, and few would dare drop this popular feature. Computers pop out "instant horoscopes" for about twenty dollars. Two well-known country clubs in Florida have "Psychic Nights," when they invite fortune tellers and psychics. These nights are packed to capacity with seekers. Shopping malls hold a "Psychic Fun Day" as a money making, a promotional gimmick. People pick the methods to predict their future and are given material to help them to join the groups.

GODDESS CONSCIOUSNESS

There is a reawakening today of "goddess consciousness," which The L.A. Times reported upon in 1978 as the spiritual power behind the women's movement. That the Force is really female is one of the foundational beliefs in witchcraft. This is expressed in the terms "Mother Nature" and Mother Earth." The head of a witch's coven must be a woman. Witchcraft is known as the "Old Religion (Wicca). It claims to be as old as the human race. It began with Eve's deception by the serpent. Witches worship 'the Force', which they believe permeates all of nature. They use it in their spells. The connection between the environmental (back-to-nature) movement, the women's movement (the matriarchal cult), and witchcraft is undeniable. Of the many persons involved, most are believed to be unaware of this."¹

Hal Lindsay wrote of the occult: "I believe that people are given superhuman powers from Satan in order that they may promote his work on earth. We are only at the beginning of this explosion. There will be inventions which will come from the spirit world and fantastic displays of miracles and wonders that the ancient Scriptures predict would occur in the days just before this present civilization would end."²

Mr. Lindsay further said, "I do not believe this trend of history has happened by chance. Satan does not want a world that rejects the supernatural; he wants a world that is 'religious' and accepts super-naturalism, because it sets the stage for him to be worshiped in the person of the coming world leader known as Antichrist."³

J. R. R. TOLKIEN ORD OF THE RINGS STEPPING STONES

There must be two movements simultaneously preparing for the end. Darkness and light are opposites. Goodness and evil are expressions of the exact same difference as darkness and light. Every story that someone tells or writes will in some way embody these two opposites. Righteousness is on course for her grand hour of victory, while darkness must become darker to meet its fate of extinction. J. R. R. Tolkien's imaginary epic in his three grand books, Lord of the Rings, is a clever look at what awaits the religious world. The final hour of religion will be the darkest time of her entire history. The sun-clothed woman will finally end in a blob of religious superstition and pagan deception."⁴

No writer has ever portrayed the blending of pagan myths with distorted Christianity more cleverly than Tolkien. These books can be and are being heralded by the liberal Christian world and the pagan world at the same time. The Christian bookstores and many ministries speak to Tolkien's great message of espousing values and even some hidden form of the Messianic hope. The pagan world promotes it right in the middle of witchcraft and occulted ideas. It is a perfect pattern for the "global spirituality" of the coming One World Government and One World Church.

I must warn of the easy stepping-stones into the mystical world. A major springboard among these is the present day infatuation of with the Harry Potter books. These books are presented so that children can easily identify with Harry Potter and then defend his choices and deeds. When analyzed, however, it can be clearly seen that everything that Harry does is actually based a magical belief system under the power of the human will. For example some of the exercises that Harry does while at Hogwarts School for Wizardry and Witchcraft are done through visualization. Such visualization exercises are really the elementary entry in the astral world of the occult.⁵

C. S. LEWIS ASLAN THE PAGAN LION SOLAR DEITY

The movie and book “The Chronicles of Narnia; The Lion, the Witch, and the Wardrobe,” is steeped in the occulted nature of Harry Potter books and movies, is also an enticing launching pad into mysticism. Is the modern Christian church handing its children over to the Antichrist system on a silver platter? First, let’s settle exactly who is Aslan the lion, the supposed Christ like personality in C. S. Lewis’ books and Disney Movies, The Chronicles of Narnia: The Lion, The Witch, and The Wardrobe and the coming movie Prince Caspian. Aslan is not the Lion of the tribe of Judah, we know as Jesus Christ. According the Dictionary of Mythology, Folklore, and Symbols by Gertrude Jobs, the sun is “The active or male principle in nature, wanderer, lion, gold, symbolized by the bow and arrow.”⁶

J. E. Cirlot’s definition of Apollo is so interesting. “Apollo in mythology and alchemy, his spiritual and symbolic significance is identical with that of the sun. The spreading golden hairs which crown the god’s head have the same meaning as the bow and arrow (Sun rays). The Greek name for Apollo is Apollon, which means “from the depths of the lion” and expresses the meaningful relationship of the sun with the fifth sign of the Zodiac, Leo.”⁷

It’s shocking to see Christians so willingly turning to a fake lion god which in witchcraft is far more associated with the god, Apollon than Jesus Christ. What does the Bible say about this figure? We see in (Rev 9:1), “And the fifth angel sounded, and I saw a star fall from heaven unto the earth: and to him was given the key of the bottomless pit.” This denotes a leader, a military chieftain, a warrior. In the fulfillment of this, we look for the appearance of some mighty prince and warrior, to whom is given power, as it were, to open the bottomless pit, and to summon forth its legions.⁸

“And they had a king over them, which is the angel of the bottomless pit, whose name in the Hebrew tongue is Abaddon, but in the Greek tongue hath his name Apollyon.” (Rev 9:11). From the Greek word apollumi "to destroy." The word properly denotes "a destroyer," and the name is given to this king of the hosts, represented by the locusts, because this would be his principal characteristic.⁹

And then he is identified the “beast” from the bottomless pit in (Rev 11:7). “And when they shall have finished their testimony, the beast that ascendeth out of the bottomless pit shall make war against them, and shall overcome them, and kill them.” This may be what is called Antichrist; some power that is opposed to genuine Christianity.¹⁰

Then we see in, (Rev 17:8), “The beast that thou sawest was, and is not; and shall ascend out of the bottomless pit, and go into perdition: and they that dwell on the earth shall wonder, whose names were not written in the book of life from the foundation of the world, when they behold the beast that was, and is not, and yet is.”

This spirit called Apollon is none other than Satan himself. He chained by the Angels of God in (Rev. 20:1). And then in (Rev 20:3), “And cast him into the bottomless pit, and shut him up, and set a seal upon him, that he should deceive the nations no more, till the thousand years should be fulfilled: and after that he must be loosed a little season.”

In The Chronicles of Narnia, to me, the most offensive thing was to see children bowing and worshiping this lion beast- animal they are calling Aslan.

STORY LINE ASLAN, THE SUN GOD

The “White Witch” has bound the land of Narnia in perpetual winter which can only be broken by the coming of the lion, Aslan, the SOLAR DEITY in the spring. The story line is that a goddess (the white witch) kills the sun god (the lion) on midsummer’s night and thus winter comes. When the sun stays up longer on the midwinter solstice (commonly celebrated under the disguise of “Christmas” he has triumphed and conquered death, thus bringing spring.

Sun worship was one of the main abominations to the Lord practiced in Bible times.

Ezekiel 8:16 (King James Version)

¹⁶And he brought me into the inner court of the LORD's house, and, behold, at the door of the temple of the LORD, between the porch and the altar, were about five and twenty men, with their backs toward the temple of the LORD, and their faces toward the east; and they worshipped the sun toward the east.

It has continued throughout the ages to this very time. That Lewis would write stories for children to indoctrinate them in this revolting religion is bad enough, but that those stories should be passed off as an allegory of the gospel of Jesus Christ is a horrible blasphemy beyond description! C. S. Lewis was an expert in mythology having studied it from an early age. It is utterly impossible that he did not know what he was writing! ¹¹

(Isa 60:2), “For, behold, the darkness shall cover the earth, and gross darkness the people: but the LORD shall arise upon thee, and his glory shall be seen upon thee.”

Jesus is coming soon!

DEMONS, MAGIC AND MYSTICISM

It may be true that some Christians do not know that they are supporting witchcraft. Many have believed that by ignoring the Devil will make him disappear. The biggest problem in the Western Church is that they do not take the powers of witchcraft seriously. They generally believe that it is not real or just fantasy and make belief. Others believe that if witches and wizards were real with demonic powers, it could not have any effect upon them because they are Christians. Actually, they are right. Witchcraft can only have power over a Christian only if he or she has open doors. These are doors of sin in their lives or doorways of stepping onto Satan's territory. Witchcraft is Satan's territory. He is the motivation behind fantasy books and movies. It is dangerous to take your children to fantasy movies with occult based stories and demonic figures such as, C. S. Lewis' occulted based books and Disney Movies, The Chronicles of Narnia: The Lion, The Witch, and The Wardrobe. Through these demonically inspired movies, Satan will use your curiosity to bring demons into you, your children and your homes.

We know that stating this will be a shock to many who think that C. S. Lewis was an outstanding Evangelical Bible believer. However, "Clive Staples Lewis was anything but a classic evangelical, socially or theologically. He smoked cigarettes and a pipe, and he regularly visited pubs to drink beer with friends. Though he shared basic Christian beliefs with evangelicals, he didn't subscribe to biblical inerrancy or penal substitution. He believed in purgatory and baptismal regeneration"¹² Lewis' Chronicles of Narnia is pagan mysticism and is the works of the Roman Catholic that is not born again.

The most serious appeal of "The Chronicles of Narnia" is the intermingling with paganism in the assumption that myth reveals historical reality. For example in "The Chronicles" Lewis depicts Jesus Christ as a lion named Aslan who is slain on a stone table. This is Lewis's presupposition that we can know Christ Jesus through myth, and that indeed myth and historical fact are intertwined. For Lewis myth can give light to theology.

In his writing, "Myth Became Fact," Lewis professed his belief that myth and reality are in fact blended together. He wrote, "[t]he heart of Christianity is a myth which is also a fact. The old myth of the Dying God, without ceasing to be myth, comes down from the heaven of legend and imagination to the earth of history. It happens—at a particular date, in a particular place, followed by definable historical consequences. We pass from a Balder or an Osiris,(pagan gods), dying nobody knows when or where, to a historical Person crucified (it is all in order) under Pontius Pilate. By becoming fact it does not cease to be myth: that is the miracle. ... God is more than god, not less: Christ is more than Balder, not less. We must not be ashamed of the mythical radiance resting on our theology."¹³

"The Chronicles of Narnia" are bewitching, and Lewis's attempt to justify his intermingling of myth with reality reveals is utterly deceptive. The Apostle Peter boldly proclaimed, "For we have not followed cunningly devised fables, when we made known unto you the power and coming of our Lord Jesus Christ, but were eyewitnesses of his majesty." (2 Pet. 1:16). This use of myth by Lewis is absolutely opposed to Biblical fact. The Lord God's command is, "casting down imaginations, and every high thing that exalteth itself against the knowledge of God, and bringing into captivity every thought to the obedience of Christ," (2 Cor. 10:5).

An equally enticing path to spiritual bondage of pagan Papal mysticism is the works of the Roman Catholic J.R.R. Tolkien.¹⁴ Since the 1960s when the trilogy of Tolkien hit the world, we have had the massive appeal of the wizardry in these writings. Now that the multimillion-dollar

Academy Awards movie "The Lord of the Rings," has hit the world, this smooth avenue into the visualization of wizardry is found easily retail store at stores, as a DVD. The whole industry of wizardry that has been sparked off the writings of Tolkien and Lewis is such that even the Boston Globe is quick to speak of the many spin-offs that have arisen from them. The Boston Globe reports, "But while Tolkien also inspired Dungeons and Dragons, computer games, and yards of swords and sorcery shelves in your local bookshop, these entities are not so much commercial spinoffs as they are tributes to Middle-earth. Before 2000, few if any marketing executives were likely to have discussed Rings in Harry Potter terms: as a 'literary property' with a 'market share' and a 'saturation point.' For nearly five decades, Tolkien was untouched by that morass of Rowling-sized sales hysteria of Happy Meals and bubble bath." ¹⁵

Separate from Lewis and Tolkien, yet still quite similar, is a fashionable style of heroic fantasy has developed, entitled "Sword-and-Sorcery". Science-fiction authors, usually write these books, and the videos and movies that follow them. They present to the modern world sorcerers, seductive princesses, and barbarians, which in reality are leaps of fantasy into the world wizardry and sorcery. One such book to captivate souls and minds is called, "Lords of Swords".

Berit Kjos documents the tremendous presence of demons, wizards, spells, and other creatures or activities that are clearly Satanic in nature. Here are a few of her quotes:

"Both stories (Harry Potter series and Lord of the Rings series) involve wizards, spells, mythical creatures and magic charms. Both demonstrate the battle between a mythical good and evil. Both pit heroic white magic against dark menacing occultism."

"In his personal letters (many are included in a book titled The Letters of J. R. R Tolkien), he expressed caution toward occult practices. But he equipped his team of mythical heroes -- the fellowship of the Ring -- with the pagan powers that God forbids. For example, 'Gandalf [a helpful wizard] is able to wield potent magic... To do battle with the forces of darkness, Gandalf the Grey can call upon not only his spell craft, but also his staff of power and the Elvin sword Glamdring.'" ¹⁶

"The movie version of The Lord of the Rings idealizes occultism and cheers the pagan practices used by good characters. Like Star Wars, Harry Potter and the world's pagan cultures, it seduces its fans into an imaginary world that pits 'white' or benevolent magic against dark, evil magic. Both sides of this imagined 'battle between good and evil' use occult practices that God forbids." ¹⁷

"This incarnate 'angel' wouldn't fit into the host of Biblical angels. But he could well fit in the hierarchy of 'devas' or 'angels' and ascended masters in the elaborate spiritual system called Theosophy or 'Ancient Wisdom.' Founded by Madame Helena Blavatsky, this esoteric blend of Hinduism and Western occultism received its doctrines from 'ascended masters' or spirit guides such as Djhwal Khul who channeled his messages to the medium Alice Bailey." ¹⁸

Tolkien himself clearly saw his creature creations as strange and mystical. He probably would have been a bit offended if someone had called them Satanic. Here are some of his descriptions:

“Gandalf is not, of course, a human being (Man or Hobbit). There are naturally no precise modern terms to say what he was. I would venture to say that he was an incarnate 'angel'.... with the other Istari, wizards, 'those who know', an emissary from the Lords of the West, sent to Middle-earth as the great crisis of Sauron loomed on the horizon. By 'incarnate' I meant they were embodied in physical bodies capable of pain and weariness....” 19

“Why they should take such a form is bound up with the 'mythology' of the 'angelic' Powers of the world of this fable. At this point in the fabulous history the purpose was precisely to limit and hinder their exhibition of 'power' on the physical plane, so that they would do what they were primarily sent for: train, advice, instruct, and arouse the hearts and minds of those threatened by Sauron to a resistance with their own strength.... The wizards were not exempt, indeed being incarnate was more likely to stray, or err. Gandalf alone fully passes the test, on a moral plane anyway. For in his condition it was for him a sacrifice to perish on the Bridge in defense of his companions.... Gandalf sacrificed himself, was accepted and enhanced and returned.”²⁰

] “Gandalf really 'died' and was changed.... 'I am Gandalf the White, who has returned from death.'”²¹

1. The picture clearly evident in these descriptions is that of fallen angels subject to Satan himself. In several locations in the Book of Revelation, there are hordes of unclean spirits seeking to work havoc on the population. “And he opened the bottomless pit; and there arose a smoke out of the pit, as the smoke of a great furnace; and the sun and the air were darkened by reason of the smoke of the pit,” Rev. 9:1.
2. “And the shapes of the locusts were like unto horses prepared unto battle; and on their heads were as it were crowns like gold, and their faces were as the faces of men. And they had hair as the hair of women, and their teeth were as the teeth of lions. And they had breastplates, as it were breastplates of iron; and the sound of their wings was as the sound of chariots of many horses running to battle.” (Rev. 9:2-3, 7-9).

Tolkien Rejected the Classical Ideas for the Romantic Ideas.

Professor Woods, a Tolkien historian, gave a revealing description of what were the greater influences in Tolkien's life. “It is not surprising to learn that Tolkien was deeply influenced by the 19th century Romantics, chiefly S. T. Coleridge and George Macdonald, since his friend and literary companion C. S. Lewis was also decisively shaped by them. Nor is it startling to find Tolkien and connections with J. M. Barrie's Peter Pan and Mary Rose, with the Four Quartets of T. S. Eliot, even with Henry James' unfinished story The Sense of the Past. What comes as a genuine shock is the news that Tolkien's mind and work were marked by the fictional dream-journeys of George Du Maurier, by the psychic experiences of Charlotte

Moberly and Eleanor Jourdain, by the time-travel fantasies of H. G. Wells, and especially by the notion of J. W. Dunne that all temporal events are simultaneous. Dunne held that time is no less constant than space, and that by certain habits of mind we can move backward and forward over time as we traverse space, even experiencing events that have not yet happened.”²²

This kind of influence and thinking produced in Tolkien a mind-set with little room for the genuine truths of Holy Scripture. He was guided by occulted thinking and the many strange ideas of those emerged in that world. Another writer, Verlyn Flieger, spells out even more clearly a description of his background and mindset. Professor Wood quotes her as follows, “There she revealed, as she does again here, that the massive moral and religious questions that exercised and animated Tolkien's imagination--the nature of good and evil, of heroism and self-sacrifice, of desire and dispossession, of death and immortality--are but subsets of his central lifelong concern with the nature of time and timelessness. In both books Flieger has shown us a darker, less cheering Tolkien than many of his Christian apologists have acknowledged. Here again she is right: Tolkien was a man whose faith was shadowed and doubt-filled, and whose fiction thus counsels a sad joyfulness as the most that we can hope for this side of eternity.”²³

Understanding the difference between the classical thinking where the emphasis is on principle and character, plus good taste, restraint, and clarity to the opposing idea is important. The romantic style was similar to the change agents of our day. A present romantic style would represent those that want to rewrite our history, change our value system, and impose a system of their own. An English dictionary, first published in 1901, described the romantic mindset as following, “inclining towards, or savouring of, romance, fictitious, extravagant, wild: fantastic.”²⁴ This kind of view into Tolkien’s life should give his cult followers a jolt into reality.

REINCARNATION & DOOM

Tolkien’s view of life, death, and the absence of a happier nature certainly played a big part in his sad myths. A bookstore manager asked him if he had dealt too strongly on the metaphysical aspect. His answer reveals something of his theology. “‘Reincarnation’ may be bad theology (that surely, rather than metaphysics) as applied to Humanity... But I do not see how even in the Primary world any theologian or philosopher, unless very much better informed about the relation of spirit and body than I believe anyone to be, could deny the possibility of re-incarnation as a mode of existence, prescribed for certain kinds of rational incarnate creatures.”²⁵

Reincarnation is the very opposite of eternal life and cannot be reconciled in the least. This kind of thinking is natural for a man that loved and enjoyed the myths of paganism. C.S. Lewis, deeply involved in the same mythological world, saw into the sad nature and writings of Tolkien and said that the Ring epic is embedded with “a profound melancholy.” Professor Wood joined in suggesting the same general consensus.

“The word ‘doom’ -- in its Anglo-Saxon meaning of damning judgment as well as final fate in ruin and death -- pulses like a funereal drumbeat throughout the entire work. Toward the end of Volume I, the elf Legolas offers a doom-centered vision of the world. It sounds very much like an elfish and Heraclitean version of entropy. ‘To find and lose,’ says Legolas, is the destiny ‘of those whose boat is on the running stream.... The passing seasons are but ripples in the long stream. Yet beneath the Sun all things must wear to an end at last.’ Though elves are so long-lived that they seem immortal to humans and hobbits, the tides of time will sweep even them away. A deeply pagan pessimism thus pervades all three of the Ring books.

The Tolkien epic of the Ring falls terribly lacking of any semblance of the Christian hope, salvation, or eternal life. It is rather filled with the hopelessness of paganism and its dark future of judgment.

We live in the day and age where there has been such a growing proliferation of ways into the world of mysticism, by video games, DVDs and the Internet, leading people into what has become the accepted world of wizardry and imagination. Such playing with fire is a steppingstone into the mystical practices that we have carefully documented here in this article.

At the present time the restraints laid on Satan seem as if they are being taken off, yet it is not for us to be fearful. We trust in the final promise given in the last book of the Bible, "I am Alpha and Omega, the beginning and the end. I will give unto him that is athirst of the fountain of the water of life freely...but the fearful, and unbelieving...and sorcerers, and idolaters, and all liars, shall have their part in the lake which burneth with fire and brimstone: which is the second death," (Rev. 21:6-8).²⁶

It is extremely interesting that the last contrast in Scripture is between, God's grace given freely by Christ Jesus the Lord, and the unbelieving, and sorcerers, and idolaters, which actually appear much like what we have shown you. This is indeed the rather startling contrast that we have presented before you in this article. "Blessed are they that do his commandments, that they may have right to the tree of life, and may enter in through the gates into the city. For without are dogs, and sorcerers, and whoremongers, and murderers, and idolaters, and whosoever loveth and maketh a lie." (Rev. 22:14-15).

WHO NEEDS HELP?

The children's world is full of monsters, fantasies, demons, witches, wizards, robots, zombie- like creatures and devils of all shapes and forms. Parents buy their children anything that their little hearts desire. Many of these things will return in later times to possess and haunt them. Supernatural powers will arrive in their families that hardly anyone has been trained to handle in the American church. God wants Christians to return to Him in prayer and commitments and He will lead them out of the great darkness that has arrived in our nation!

HORRIFYING EXPERIENCE

A Christian tells me of a young ten-year-old girl that is now seeing spooky spiritual things in her room. After taking her to see the Chronicles of Narnia, her Christian mother does not believe her. The answer. Send her to a doctor and fill her up with drugs. There are millions of children in this position in America today. Millions of children are in darkness. Recommended by their Christian leaders, millions are being entertained by puppets, Christian heavy rock bands, Hip Hop, cartoons, and now, Magical fantasy movies.

We live in the day and age where there has been such a growing proliferation of ways into the world of mysticism, by video games, DVDs and the Internet, leading people into what has become the accepted world of wizardry and imagination. Such playing with fire is a stepping stone into the mystical practices that will surely damn millions of young souls into raging fires of hell.

The Scripture tells us, "Blow the trumpet in Zion and sound an alarm in My holy mountain: Let all the inhabitants of the land tremble: for the day of the Lord cometh, for it is nigh at hand," (Joel 2:11). "O Zion, Holy People of God, awake to the sound of the trumpet, for the day of the Lord is near." We are living in treacherous times as never before witnessed. There is absolutely a war going on in the United States! It is a battle for the minds of the people to change their spiritual concepts.

Many children have become spiritually crippled. Do your children wrestle with problems and are out of control? Are your children Bipolar? Do your children suffer from nightmares? Hypertension? Confusion? Are your children depressed? Abused? Afraid? Tormented? Suicidal? Sick? Alcoholic? Addicted? Obese? Homosexual (gay, lesbian)? Witchcraft? Satanist? Brotherhood? Do want them out of the occult or a cult? Are they involved in the bondage of porno? OCD? MPD? DID? Molester? Self-Abuse? Etc.? Your children can be free! The only answer to receive help for all their personal problems is through deliverance in the Name of JESUS CHRIST. The solution is to cast these DEMONS out.

DEMONS ARE REAL

At this time, many Christians hardly believe that demons are real, let alone that there is people practicing witchcraft. "All one has to do is keep your eyes on Jesus," many said. Another thing, "We don't want to lift the Devil up or give him any credit," others would assert strongly. Meantime, right before our eyes one of the greatest occult explosions took place. Satan has tremendous control over his captives. He can control them completely. The Bible says, "But if our gospel be hid, it is hid to them that are lost; In whom the god of this world hath blinded the minds of them which believe not, lest the light of the glorious gospel of Christ, who is the image of God, should shine unto them," (II Cor. 4:3-4).

There are two sources for a person to be able to achieve supernatural power, Jesus or Satan. Seeking power beyond the Word of God and beyond the authority of Jesus Christ finds a person stepping into the world of the Occult. The occult is very religious. Many are seeking hoping to find for themselves a reason for their life. They want to fill a void in their soul. Instead, they will move into a door that very few people come back. Once ensnared by the Devil, the person's mind, body and spirit is totally bound by the powers of darkness. The only way out is through the grace of God and the Blood of Jesus.³

The Apostle Peter tells us in (2 Pet. 1:19), "We have also a more sure word of prophecy; whereunto ye do well that ye take heed, as unto a light that shineth in a dark place, until the day dawn, and the day star arise in your hearts." We are living in dark days: morally, spiritually, nationally, internationally, politically and economically. A prophecy gives light on the pathway that is set before us. The prophetic word is the only ray of light by which we can know the future. The coming outlook is pitch-dark but for Believers. It is bright.

SATAN AND JESUS

In the Bible, from Genesis to Revelation, we see the power of Satan and the results of his influence over people. Adam and Eve were driven from the Garden and all of its blessings by following his influence. This alone should tell all men that he is a power to be reckoned with. Jesus, while on earth, was confronted by the power in the physical as well as in the spiritual sense. Often he rebuked the Devil in people who were afflicted with illness as well as those who were violent and acted abnormally. Look at Mark Chapter 5, devils of epilepsy were cast.

The seventy came rejoicing because the devils were subject unto them. In the final statement in Mark, Chapter 16, casting out of devils is shown as part of the preaching of the Gospel, and I find no place in Scripture where this was ever rescinded. There are many occurrences in life that even the medical world cannot explain. Only knowledge as shown in the book of Job can explain these strange occurrences. We find a full onslaught of Satan's work and ability. His destruction of Job's wealth, family and total physical health reduced the man to a fragment of his original self.

Satan is man's enemy, as proven by the book of Job, and is a destroyer of all good things, but, every good and perfect gift comes down from the Father of Lights with whom there is no variableness. It should be easy to identify the source of what is happening by the results that are before us. God is a good and the giver of all good things; Satan is just the reverse of God. The influence of each is easily discerned by the end results.⁴

Author Corrie Ten-Boom says, "someone asked my opinion of the missionaries in a certain country. My answer was, 'They have given all, but they have not taken all. They have given homeland, time, money, luxury, and more, but they have not taken all the riches abundant that the Word gives us from the boundless resources of God's promises.' Many do not know about two precious weapons: The power of the cross and the blood of Jesus and every legal right of use of the wonderful name of Jesus."⁵

The Bible warns, "The Spirit speaketh expressly that in the latter times some shall depart from the faith, giving heed to seducing spirits and doctrines of devils." (1 Tim. 4:1).

He has captured the world now Satan is infiltrating doctrines into the Christian circles with his tactics to destroy from within; these New Age methods idealizes witchcraft and its supernatural orientation and the world's pagan cultures. They exalt pagan practices by depicting good verses evil Characters. Satan's powerful agenda seduces its fans into an imaginary world that pits "white" or benevolent magic against dark, evil black magic. Both sides of this imagined "battle between good and evil" use cabalistic practices that God forbids and says, it is an abomination to God.” Fantasy movies are now being targeted to the Christian Church by powerful Evangelical leaders. The Bible says, “Woe to those who call evil good, and good evil; Who put darkness for light, and light for darkness . . . Woe to those who are wise in their own eyes and clever in their own sight,” (Isa. 5:20-21). Parents, beware!

FALLING AWAY

The Apostle Paul warns of the spread of heresy from the Christian faith. The word Apostasy conveys the particular idea of falling away, a withdrawal, a defection from the faith. Paul goes on to say in the scriptures, “Let no man deceive you by any means; for that day shall not come, except there come a falling away first, and that man of sin be revealed, the son of perdition,” (I Thess. 2:3). The Bible shows in (II Thess. 2) the last days that a spirit of “strong delusion” will overtake the whole world. Have you noticed that “another Jesus, another Gospel,” is being preached everywhere?

Paul shocked his listeners with the fact that many of their apostles were actually false when he said, “And no marvel (surprise); for Satan himself is transformed into an angel of light. Therefore it is no great thing if his ministers also be transformed as the minister of righteousness: whose end shall be according to their works,” (2Cor. 11:14).

The Apostle Paul shows that even as false ministers appeared as true ministers, so also Satan can masquerade himself as a true angel of God. The purpose of coming to a person in the role of the deceiver is to trick that individual into accepting the false for the true. A believer protection is discerning the spirits to see if they be of God and studying the whole counsel of God’s Word and rightly dividing the Word by interpreting Scripture with Scripture.

People of our day have a tendency to trust their church leaders and famous personalities by relying on them to do their Bible studies and tell them how to live. No one seems to watching the sheep. A Good Shepherd never runs when the wolves come, but he fights for his sheep. Jesus said, “Take heed therefore unto yourselves, and to all the flock, over the which the Holy Ghost hath made you overseers, to feed the church of God, which He hath purchased with His own blood. For I know this that after my departing shall grievous wolves enter in AMONG YOU, not sparing the flock.” “Also of your own selves shall men arise, speaking perverse things, to draw away disciples after them” (Acts 20:28-30).

OUTLINES

The religious people of His time charged that “He cast out devils by Beelzebub.” (Lk. 11:13).

- A. Jesus did not have to teach the people the reality of demons.
 - 1. They knew about reality of demonology.

2. However, they had problems discerning the source of his power.
3. Jesus had compassion for His people to live above peer pressure.
4. It is a terrible thing to see someone who is entangled helplessly under the power of demons.

II. THE BEAUTIFUL ANGEL

- A. There are two passages in the Scriptures have long intrigued Bible Scholars, and many believe they refer to Satan.
 1. Just as in the Psalms David often spoke of himself and at the same time prophetically of Christ.
 2. So also Ezekiel and Isaiah, delivering warnings to evil kings, seem under the prompting of the Holy Spirit to refer to the fall of Satan.
- B. (Ezek. 28:12-19),
 1. “Son of man, take up a lamentation upon the king of Tyrus, and say unto him, Thus saith the Lord GOD; Thou sealest up the sum, full of wisdom, and perfect in beauty.”
 2. 13 Thou hast been in Eden the garden of God; every precious stone was thy covering, the sardius, topaz, and the diamond, the beryl, the onyx, and the jasper, the sapphire, the emerald, and the carbuncle, and gold: the workmanship of thy tabrets and of thy pipes was prepared in thee in the day that thou wast created.
 3. 14 Thou art the anointed cherub that covereth; and I have set thee so: thou wast upon the holy mountain of God; thou hast walked up and down in the midst of the stones of fire.
 4. 15 Thou wast perfect in thy ways from the day that thou wast created, till iniquity was found in thee.
 5. 16 By the multitude of thy merchandise they have filled the midst of thee with violence, and thou hast sinned: therefore I will cast thee as profane out of the mountain of God: and I will destroy thee, O covering cherub, from the midst of the stones of fire.
 6. 17 Thine heart was lifted up because of thy beauty; thou hast corrupted thy wisdom by reason of thy brightness: I will cast thee to the ground; I will lay thee before kings, that they may behold thee.
 7. 18 Thou hast defiled thy sanctuaries by the multitude of thine iniquities, by the iniquity of thy traffick; therefore will I bring forth a fire from the midst of thee, it shall devour thee, and I will bring thee to ashes upon the earth in the sight of all them that behold thee.
 8. 19 All they that know thee among the people shall be astonished at thee: thou shalt be a terror, and never shalt thou be any more.

III. Isaiah echoes this tragic rebellion and fall of the once beautiful cherub.

A. (Isa. 14:11-22),

1. 11 Thy pomp is brought down to the grave, and the noise of thy viols: the worm is spread under thee, and the worms cover thee.
2. 12 How art thou fallen from heaven, O Lucifer, son of the morning! How art thou cut down to the ground, which didst weaken the nations!
3. 13 For thou hast said in thine heart, I will ascend into heaven, I will exalt my throne above the stars of God: I will sit also upon the mount of the congregation, in the sides of the north:
4. 14 I will ascend above the heights of the clouds; I will be like the most High.
5. 15 Yet thou shalt be brought down to hell, to the sides of the pit.
6. 16 They that see thee shall narrowly look upon thee, and consider thee, saying, Is this the man that made the earth to tremble, that did shake kingdoms;
7. 17 That made the world as a wilderness, and destroyed the cities thereof; that opened not the house of his prisoners?
8. 18 All the kings of the nations, even all of them, lie in glory, everyone in his own house.
9. 19 But thou art cast out of thy grave like an abominable branch, and as the raiment of those that are slain, thrust through with a sword, that go down to the stones of the pit, as a carcase trodden under feet.
10. 20 Thou shalt not be joined with them in burial, because thou hast destroyed thy land, and slain thy people: the seed of evildoers shall never be renowned.

IV. Satan was created a very beautiful angel and given a high rank of power in heaven.

A. As a cherub he was near to the throne of God.

1. Although he was blameless in the beginning, he did have a free will, and his fall came as a result of his lust for power and pride and his attempt to dethrone God.

V. In Revelation we get a glimpse of the battle in heaven that came as a result of Satan's rebellion:

A. (Rev. 12:7-9).

1. And there was war in heaven: Michael and his angels fought against the dragon; and the dragon fought and his angels,
2. And prevailed not; neither was their place found any more in heaven.
3. And the great dragon was cast out, that old serpent, called the Devil, and Satan, which deceiveth the whole world: he was cast out into the earth, and his angels were cast out with him.

B. Scripture says that Satan and his rebellious angels were thrown out of heaven and have come to earth to lead the whole world astray.

C. Verse twelve of the same chapter says,

1. “Woe to the inhabitants of the earth and sea!”
2. “For the devil has come down to you, having great wrath, because he knows that he has a short time.” Satan is jealous of God’s love for man, and in his fury seeks to destroy humankind.”⁶
